

Extraction of River Water

Water is extracted from the river Yamuna at Dak Pather near Dehra Dun to the Gokul Barrage in Mathura and is diverted into several upstream canals from barrages at Dak Pather, Hathnikund (Tajewalain Haryana) and Okhla in the NCT of Delhi. Water is added to the river or extracted from it at different points shown below.

Where Water Gets Added to or Extracted from the Yamuna River

Disclaimer: All the Contents of this document are under Copyright.